

premio OTTORINO RESPIGHI 2013 international composition competition music for young players first edition

The Conservatorio Statale di Musica Ottorino Respighi in Latina announces the Premio Ottorino Respighi 2013
International Composition Competition
Music for young players

The competition aims to update the literature used in instrumental training in the context of the renewed courses of study, and pays special attention to instruments born recently or whose educational-artistic repertoire is less developed towards modernity.

The purpose of the competition is to enrich the instrumental literature of the initial phases of training, according to poetic and stylistic innovations of recent years, thus enabling young musicians to establish a direct relationship with contemporary sensibility and new ideas.

In this first edition the competition is dedicated to ACCORDION, regardless of its construction technique.

Categories

A Solo Accordion B From accordion duo to accordion quartet C Chamber Music
Category C includes the use of up to three other instruments in addition to the accordion, to be chosen from: flute (also piccolo), oboe, clarinet (also bass), bassoon, saxophone (soprano, alto, tenor, baritone), trumpet, trombone, guitar, harpsichord, flute, harp, piano, percussion, violin, alto, viol (gamba), cello and double bass. The difficulty of execution for all instruments used should be of a similar level.
